Pictures from Antique Camera Compare Favorably

DID YOU EVER have your portrait made with blazing flashlight power and a camera made to use sensitized glass instead of film? A lot of us have in the years long gone by, but not recently, I betcha.

John Foster, the studio man, has a hobby which is collecting antique cameras. He likes to fix them up and make pictures with them on field trips with other camera fans using modern cameras. When results are compared, it's amazing how good were the early camera and lenses.

Foster's present pride and joy is the ancestor of the modern press camera. In size and shape it looks like the familiar box camera used by millions today. But there the similarity ends.

It is a Glack camera made in Munchen, Germany. It has a Bausch and Lomb unicum shutter with speeds up to a hundredth of a second, with lens stops down from F 7.7 to F 44, which is unusual as modern markings go.

The film holders are designed to hold sensitized glass plates of four and three-quarters by three and a half inches in size. Most amazing thing about the camera is the fact that it is a transition model; on either side of the bellows is a sliding door which opens to reveal roll film spindles. When you remember (do you remember) that roll film was invented in 1887 and that George Eastman didn't invent his first camera for roll film until 1888, the date of 1891 on this camera marks it as an old timer.

Flash light powder is difficult to find, but Harry Barter located a box of Kodak flash cartridges, which are the forerunners of the flash bulbs, and Mr. Foster says he is now looking for a flash gun used in those days to set off the powder with a spark.

And while you are looking—does anyone have a photographer's head clamp?

Michael Hillegas Chapter Presents DAR Good Citizenship Awards to 8 Students

Selections have been made for the annual Good Citizenship Awards to be presented by Michael Hillegas chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Eight girls from high schools in this area have been chosen, according to announcement made by Mrs. George McNab, awards chairman.

Senior class students in the various schools select three candidates for the award, and one is picked from the three by the teachers.

Martha Armistead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Armistead, 215 West O'Garra street, was selected at the Harrisburg Township high school for the award.

Martha is secretary of the HTHS student council, secretary of the National Honor society and advertising manager of the Keystone. During high school she has maintained a high scholastic average, as well as been prominent in extra class activities. She has been a member of the band and Hi-Tri and was president of the Junior National Honor society during her sophomore year. During her junior year she won the D. A. R. history award and the preliminary piano contest.

Selected at Galatia high school was Marlene Edwards. She has been an honor student consistently, was basketball queen as well as junior-senior prom queen this year and was a member of the junior and senior play casts.

The Pope County Community high school winner at Golconda is Joyce Elaine Randolph, RFD 1, Golconda. Her high school activities include having been cheerleader, member of the chorus, drum majorette, in the Variety, Music Guild and junior play casts, president of the student council.

Suit Against UMW Settled for $28,500; 13 Fined

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — A $28,500 settlement in a damage suit against the United Mine Workers and $2,875 in fines against 13 individuals has climaxed legal action on a 1949 coal mine gun battle.

Some 1,000 shots were exchanged and one man was killed in the one and one-half hours of fighting at a strip mine in Walker County, Ala., during the September, 1949 UMW strike.

Galatia Drills Well To Help Supply Water

Galatia, which like Harrisburg is plagued with water-shortage troubles, has drilled a deep well which, it is estimated, will produce 20 to 25 barrels of water a minute.

The well was drilled 150 feet deep near the reservoir pump house. It is reported that tests of the water will be made and if the tests are good, probably there will be more drilling.

Bandits Tie Station Man, Take $36

Carrier Mills had an armed robbery this morning. Robbed was the Sinclair service station on Route 45 operated by Donald Dunning.

Dunning called Sheriff Paul Spangler and said two armed men had taken $36 off him at the point of a gun and escaped after tying him up.

The armed robbery occurred around 9 a. m. Dunning told the sheriff over the telephone. He called the sheriff's office here at 9:25 a. m. and said he had just freed himself.

Dunning told the sheriff that two fellows, unmasked, came into his service station and one put a pistol on him. They took the money, tied him and left in a black 1947 Buick, he said. He told the sheriff he believed that the car headed toward Harrisburg on Route 45.

Dunning said that one of the men was short, had red hair and wore overalls. The other, who had the gun, he said, was tall, had blond hair and wore a gray suit.

Rhee Proposes Anti-Communist Bloc in Far East

SEOUL, Korea — President Syngman Rhee has asked Philippine President Ramon Magsaysay to call an Asiatic conference to negotiate a Far East anti-Communist alliance, high Korean sources said today.

The sources said Rhee made his request in a letter which was to have been delivered to Magsaysay two days ago by South Korean Minister Y. K. Kim.

Rhee appealed for a meeting of anti-Communist Asian nations to form a military, economic and cultural alliance against Communist China, the informants said.

The revelation of Rhee's letter to Magsaysay closely followed an offer by the South Korean government to send one division to Indochina to aid the French and Vietnamese forces in their fight against Communism.

At the same time, Rhee's personal military envoy, Maj. Gen. Choi Duk Shin, is now touring six nations in Southeast Asia to discuss the forming of such an alliance.

Choi will visit Nationalist China, Burma, Viet Nam, Cambodia, Laos and Malacca with a "concrete proposal" for a Pacific pact.

Informants did not reveal what Rhee proposed for attendance at the anti-Communist meeting. But it was assumed that Rhee would include the nations on Choi's itinerary and exclude Japan, which the ROK government has accused of aggressive intentions in the Pacific.

Set November '55 Completion Date For Ohio Bridge

Contracts Let Soon; Illinois Ready To Build Approach

Completion date for the bridge across the Ohio river at Shawneetown has been set for on or about Nov. 1, 1955, according to W. P. Corlin, Kentucky highway commissioner, the Gallatin Democrat reports at Shawneetown this week.

Contracts are scheduled to be let any time now and the newspaper at Shawneetown says the bonds have been purchased by Shields and Company and Associates of New York City.

Contracts for construction were scheduled to be let as follows: Superstructure, to Allied Structural Steel Co. of Chicago, $2,693,864.05;

Substructure, to Traylor Bros. of Evansville, $1,036,563;

Kentucky Approach, $457,058.31, to R. B. Tyler Co., Louisville, Ky. The Democrat quotes E. L. Shertzer, engineer of design with the Illinois Division of Highways, as saying that the survey for the Illinois approach is completed and that construction plans are 95 per cent complete and can be finished on short notice when needed.

The acquisition of rights-of-way, he stated, is included in the published program for this year. However, from preliminary contacts it appears that several parcels of land will have to be condemned to clear title, but no unusual delays are anticipated, he said.

It is his department's intention, he continued, to make every effort to time the completion of the Illinois approach to meet the completion date of the bridge and Kentucky approach.

When questioned by the newspaper about the early completion date for the bridge and approaches that has been set, the officials revealed that the job could readily be completed within that time.

Kentucky Highway Chief Curlin explained that negotiations have been completed for the purchase of the Shawneetown ferry which will be operated by the State of Kentucky until construction work has been completed.

The span will be 3,200 feet in length, with a 24-foot roadway and two-foot walkways. Two 850-foot steel trusses will support the main structure. Substructure units will be on reinforced concrete.

The Gallatin Democrat points out that Illinois is to construct a 9,600-foot approach with a 22-foot pavement on a 42-foot roadway that will commence at the west levee and will extend to the east foot of the bridge at a point approximately one-half mile east of what is known as the Rocks.

The main river bridge piers will be located on the rock foundation and the east approach will require piling, the Democrat reports. It says the structure will allow for boats to pass under.

Kentucky's approach will be slightly less than two miles in length and will extend from the east end of the bridge to a point approximately one-half mile east of what is known as the Rocks.

There Was a Man Who Lived By the Side of the Road . . .

And he sold hot dogs.

He was hard of hearing, so he had no radio.

He had trouble with his eyes, so he read no newspapers, and saw no television.

But he sold good hot dogs. He put signs on the highway, telling how good they were.

He stood on the side of the road and cried, "Buy a hot dog, mister?" And people bought.

He increased his meat and bun order. He bought a bigger stove, to take care of his trade. He finally got his son home from college to help him.

But then something happened. His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio? Haven't you been reading the newspapers? There's a big depression on. The European situation is terrible. The domestic situation is worse. Everything's going to pot."

Whereupon the father thought, "Well, my son's been to college, he reads the papers and he listens to the radio, and he ought to know."

So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders, took down his advertising signs, and no longer bothered to stand out on the highway to sell his hot dogs. And his hot dog sales fell off almost overnight.

"You're right, son," the father said to his boy. "We certainly are in the middle of a great depression."

Three-Million-Dollar Black Market Baby Ring is Disclosed in Montreal

MONTREAL — New arrests in a three-million dollar black market baby ring were expected today as authorities moved quickly to stamp out the "frightful" traffic.

Official police sources said the ring had been operating out of Montreal for 10 years and had many ramifications. Doctors, lawyers, nurses and social workers were said to be facing arrest.

Early investigation indicated at least 1,000 babies born illegitimately in Montreal had been sold to childless couples in the United States at prices up to $3,000. Most of the infants were said to have been sold to Jewish couples in New York. Others went to points as distant as Chicago, Cleveland and cities in Florida.

Existence of the ring was exposed by police Friday following the arrest of Herman Buller, 38, a Montreal lawyer. He was caught in a police trap at Dorval Airport as he was about to board an airplane.

False birth certificates were said to be the key to the ring's operations. Couples purchasing the babies could take them across the border without difficulty with the false certificates. Police said there were other instances in which the babies were smuggled into the United States in trucks.

United Press dispatches from New York recently reported some babies had been sold there for as much as $3,500. Many childless couples face long, heartbreaking delays in trying to adopt children from authorized agencies, the dispatches said, and so turn to black markets.

Saline county has a total of 12 oil operations this week, with the future looking bright for more rigs to be moving in this spring.

Three miles north of Raleigh in Long Branch township, independent operator's Boling-Ledvine and Yabrove of Evansville and Calvert Drilling of Olney, have set casing on what looks to be the best well completed in that area to date.

Their No. A-1 Ben Davis, NW NW SE, 35-7s-6e, is swabbing at the rate of 6 1/2 barrels oil per hour from highly saturated Cypress sand 2539-59 after fracturing with 6000 gallons of acid. They traced the upper break of the oil zone 2547-52 feet, after unsuccessfully attempting to drill by lost tools in the hole. The present total depth is around 3000 feet. If they don't get the whistcock to hold and can't drill a diagonal hole, they will have to abandon the present location and skid the rig to drill a new hole. Which probably would have been the cheapest and fastest thing in the long run, if they had only known the bad luck they were going to have. Check it off as a small amount of the expenses of an oil company to get the oil to the top of the ground so the farmer can start getting his 1/3 of the oil income.

Two miles east of Eldorado, G. L. Reasor is still drilling on the No. 2 test on the James H. Porter farm in the NE NW SE of 23-3s-7e and has a location staked to drill the No. 3 as soon as he finishes. Mitchell of Carmi is the rotary contractor and today was digging ahead at 2465. Bill Harris of Carmi is the geologist watching the well.

In the same area, W. C. McBride is drilling at 2600 on his No. 1 Clarence Collier, NW SE SE, 23-3s-7e, after taking a drill stem test of the Palestine sand 1932-40. It recovered 325 feet of gas and only 25 feet of salty "bad news" oil cut mud. They should reach their Aux Vases sand about 2950 feet.

Los Angeles — Six persons—three men and three women—were killed instantly early today when their car collided head-on with an oncoming streetcar.

Police said the 1949 car apparently tried to pass a second car, crossed a double white line and smashed into the streetcar, which was derailed partially.

The victims were removed from the wreckage after firemen worked for a half hour with crowbars. The mangled bodies were taken to the county morgue in three ambulances.

None of the 16 persons on the streetcar was injured.

Soviet Demands For Austria Anger Allies

Deadlock is Third Obstacle at Big Four Conference

BERLIN (UP) — The West reacted angrily today to Russia's demand for a permanently neutralized and occupied Austria.

One Western spokesman called the five-point plan introduced by Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov as "about as brutal and cynical and as far removed from anything we can stand for as can be imagined."

The Western foreign ministers and visiting Austrian Foreign Minister Leopold Figl prepared to deliver a resounding "no" when the Big Four conference holds its 19th meeting at 3 p. m.

Figl, who appeared before the Big Four ministers Friday to make an impassioned plea for Austrian independence only to hear Molotov's depressing proposal, framed his reply on instructions from the chancellery in Vienna.

It was understood, too, that U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault had prepared a scorching denunciation of the Russian plan.

Reports from Vienna said the seven million Austrians who have lived under foreign domination since Hitler's infamous Anschluss of 1938 despaired of hope for freedom after hearing Molotov's unrealistic demands which, if granted, would make Austria forever vulnerable to Soviet aggression.

In his speech Molotov made it clear his price for signing the long delayed Austrian state treaty is guaranteed neutralization of Austria, Germany and Trieste.

Figl held a telephone conversation with Austrian Chancellor Julius Raab in Vienna before conferring with members of his delegation on the reply to Molotov's proposal.

The Austrian deadlock was the third obstacle between the East and West since their fruitless meeting started here 19 days ago.

They became deadlocked as expected on German reunification and free elections and efforts to ease tension in the Far East.

But it had been believed they might reach a settlement on Austria.

Dulles, who already has informed Molotov he can't stay much longer in Berlin because of other pressing duties, held a strategy meeting with Eden and Bidault before attending the afternoon plenary session.

They were united in their opposition to Molotov, but determined to explore every possibility of finding a solution to conference problems.

Eisenhower Enjoys Quail Hunt in Georgia

THOMASVILLE, Ga. — President Eisenhower hoped to shoot his legal limit of quail today on the southwest Georgia estate of Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey.

His chances were good. Quail were plentiful on the 600-acre plantation and the President planned to start out after the small game birds early in the morning.

In less than three hours late Friday afternoon, Mr. Eisenhower shot 10 birds. The daily bag limit is 12.

He'll have to make the most of today, because hunting is illegal in Georgia on Sunday, and the Chief Executive's schedule called for him to be back in Washington by late Sunday afternoon.

There was a rumor he might go to California some time next week for some more time off, but Press Secretary James C. Hagerty refused to comment on this report. The President has announced engagements in Washington next Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. Eisenhower's hunting companions here were the Treasury secretary, Cliff Roberts, a golf crony and retired New York investment banker, and W. Walton Jones, board chairman of the Cities Service Co. of New York. In addition to being experienced hunting companions, they also made up a bridge foursome.

Webb Advises How to Boost Pasture Gains

Addresses Livestock
Meeting on Progress
At Dixon Springs

R. J. Webb of the Dixon Springs experimental station yesterday told local livestock producers things they might do to increase their gains. He spoke at the city hall.

Webb's remarks dealt chiefly with pasturing and storage of feeds
for cattle, telling of the progress being made at the Dixon Springs station.

Declaring the station had come to definite conclusions on the growing of pastures, he said the big problem, of course, "is how to sell your pasture crop."

Webb said that farmers have worked things out pretty well on harvesting grain crops but are far behind in the harvesting from the pastures.

Suggests Two Pastures
"We're not getting enough meat or milk from our pastures," he stated. "But we're working on how to bring more gain per acre."

Webb suggested that perhaps it would be good for the livestock
producer to have two pastures:
One, with fescue or some other similar grass, would be nitrated sometime in March for a better crop. The other, Sudan grass, would be put in another field for supplemental pasture land.

With these two fields, he explained, the cattle could be placed in with the fescue until around July 1, then switched to the Sudan grass for July, August and early in September, then returned to the fescue pasture.

That was one of the suggestions
he gave and there was a considerable question and answer period.

Silage an Efficient Feed
Webb devoted considerable time to silage, which he declared "is the most efficient winter feed we have."

He suggested that in the spring,
when the pasture has an excess of grass, it be cut, chopped and stored.

"That's taking care of your summer and winter feed needs on the same pasture," he commented.

Speaking of trench silos, he suggested making them about eight feet wide and filling them with the silage. He said there is no need to cover them as the silage will seal over a short distance below the surface.

"There is very little waste," he said, "and even this moldy part can be fed to cattle."

Also speaking to the group was Dr. M. E. Mansfield, who talked on diseases of cattle.

FARMERS ENROLLED IN SOUTHERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY'S first on-campus agriculture short

Cattle Prices to Go No Lower

Beef cattle prices have probably hit the end of their long slide.
From now on they should stay about where they are except for seasonal variations. They may even go up a little.

Farm economist E. J. Working of the University of Illinois says that exceptionally high marketings could drive prices lower. They could be brought on by fear on the part of cattlemen or drought, but he doesn't expect them to be unduly large.

Beef prices started falling in 1951 but decreased most in the late fall of 1952 and the first part of 1953. Beef prices have gone up since the middle of 1953. They were down a little last November and December, but not so low as in June, and they came back up in January.

Working says the fall in beef
prices was inevitable, but drought made it worse. Farmers had been building up their herds for years,
and eventually a lot of livestock
had come to market.

Slaughter was 35 per cent higher in 1953 than in 1952.

Consumer demand is holding up well, Working says, and eating habits formed the last two years by cheap beef will help to hold up demand.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

In an effort to clarify the state's traffic regulations, the 1954 session of the General Assembly made several changes in those laws. One of them affects the right-of-way at intersections where no stop signs or traffic signals are placed. (Section 65, Uniform Act Regulating Traffic.)

The changed portion of the law
grants the right-of-way to a vehicle
which has entered the intersection
over one which is approaching it.
Subsection A reads, "The driver of a vehicle approaching an intersection shall yield the right-of-way to a vehicle which has entered the intersection from a different highway."

When two vehicles approach an intersection at approximately the same time, the driver of the one on the left is still required to grant the right-of-way to the one on the right.

Subsection B reads, "When two vehicles enter an intersection from different highways at approximately the same time, the driver of the vehicle on the left shall yield the right-of-way to the vehicle on the right."

Windbreaks Make Farm Winters More Comfortable

If the icy blasts of winter make your farm work uncomfortable,
you can plan an effective wind-break now that will make the coming winters better.

Windbreaks are best made up of evergreen varieties, says L. B. Culver, extension forester at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. They will keep their foliage through the winter when they need their protection most.

Norway spruce and Douglas fir
are the most satisfactory varieties of evergreen for windbreak use. The specialist points out. They grow well under Illinois conditions, are well-shaped with plenty of foliage and are varieties that you can buy at several commercial nurseries.

It is a good idea to plan to plant your windbreak not more than 300 feet from the nearest buildings on the north and west sides of your farmstead. The trees should not be any closer than 50 feet to any of the buildings.

Culver says that most windbreaks that have been planted use three rows of trees spaced 14 feet in and between rows. You will find this spacing both effective and economical.

For more information on farm
windbreaks, ask your county farm adviser for a copy of Natural History Survey Circular 38, "Windbreaks for Illinois Farmsteads."

Vaccinate your pets to help cut down the rabies threat, suggests a University of Illinois veterinarian.

Outlook Bad For Chinch Bugs And Corn Borer

You can expect large numbers of chinch bugs and corn borers in 1954, says Entomologist J. H. Bigger of the Illinois Natural History Survey.

The outlook is bad partly because of the mild winter so far and partly because of the large numbers of these insects last year.
Bigger says. Chinch bugs will be especially bad in the central and southwestern counties, and corn borers will be heavy in the north-central counties.

The entomologist outlines some things you can do to cut down on the damage from these insects.

It will be particularly important this spring to follow good cultural and fertility practices in order to get as heavy a stand of oats as you can. A rank growth of oats will hold moisture on the lower parts of the plants and in the soil
and will help to drive the chinch
bugs from their early breeding grounds.

It's a good idea not to plant small grain next to corn if you can make other arrangements.

First early defensive measure against corn borer is to plow under all cornstalks and plant refuse before May 10 to destroy the winter harboring grounds of the borer.

Adjust your planting time to insure a vigorous, healthy stand and avoid exceptionally early or late plantings. Plant fertile soils to corn about mid-May.

Finally, for best growth and yield, Bigger advises using a hybrid corn that is especially adapted to your area.

SIU Country Column

By Albert Meyer

Is yours one of the many farms
where cisterns are in use for water storage? No doubt you follow the standard custom of catching all the water you can during winter
rains in order to have cooler water for summer use. You need a good filter on your cistern to give you clean water. If you need some suggestions about making such filters, you may have them by writing to the SIU Agriculture Department.

Even though the groundhog did see his shadow and crawl back into his hole for a good snooze, February still is a good time to get ready for spring. It's time to order plants for early delivery —
strawberries, shrubs, young trees,
most any plants needing an early start.

Speaking of young trees, it has been said that, "Old folks plant most of the shade trees because the young folks usually are in too much of a hurry to get quick results." Perhaps by the time the trees are big enough for shade
the young folks will be ready to sit under them.

If you grow your own garden plants from seed, it's time to get them started. The way to decide when to sow the seed is to count back about six weeks from the time you expect to transplant the seedlings to the garden or field.
Small plant flats, a heated bed, or a cold frame may be used for seed beds.

Some vegetables may be field seeded or transplanted from four to six weeks before the average frost free date—around April 20 in Southern Illinois. Included in the list of cool season plants are broccoli, Brussels sprouts, cabbage, lettuce, onions, peas, radishes, spinach, and turnips. Another group which may be sown two to four weeks before the frost free
date includes beets, carrots, cauliflower, chard, mustard, and parsnips.

There's a general rule of thumb
by which you can divide the cool season from the warm season plants. If you eat the fruit of the plant it belongs in the warm season
group. If you eat the leaves, roots, stems, or certain parts of the floral arrangement (broccoli) it belongs to the cool season plants.
Every rule has its exceptions,
though. For example, peas (fruit)
are a cool season crop and sweet potatoes (a type of root) are a warm season crop.

Planning note: With acreage allotments starting you in the face, you'd better review or revise your crop rotation plans now. It may be the most important decision
you will make in the next 10 years.

mean more net profit to the good operators who strive for high yield.
Attainment of high yields on allot-

yields on unlimited acreages."

Italy Threatened With Floods

ROME (UP) — Rain and melting snow threatened Italy today with devastating floods.

The Tiber River overflowed its banks north of Rome and a dike of the mighty Po River collapsed Friday night at Sienta, in the Po-sine area where 273 persons were drowned in the 1951 floods.

Authorities said the Tiber was flowing well below the level of Rome's ancient streets. The river was expected to rise to 40 feet later today when the crest from the mountains hits Rome.

The Tiber's normal level in Rome during February is only 13 to 17 feet.

Administration To List Security Risk Firings

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Eisenhower administration will tell the public how many of the 2,200 "security risk" firings from the government involved disloyalty, Rep. John Taber (R-NY) disclosed today.

The decision to give a breakdown came after repeated Democratic charges that the Republicans are trying to make political hay by implying that all 2,200 were guilty of treason or disloyalty. Actually, Democrats said, very few, if any, real subversives were ousted by the administration.

Taber, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said the breakdown may take three weeks to three months but added "it will come."

"It isn't going to be possible to classify all the firings to suit Democrats who have been trying to dodge their own responsibilities," Taber said. "But the breakdown will give them all the information anybody has license to ask."

Says Few Were Communists
Chairman Philip Young of the Civil Service Commission said a few weeks ago that President Eisenhower and the National Security Council will decide "in the near future" whether to issue a breakdown of the federal "security" findings.

Taber would not say where he got his information.

Meantime, House Democratic Whip John W. McCormack (D-Mass.) said information available to the Democrats indicates that "few if any Communists" have been turned up in the government by the administration. If there were any, McCormack added, they were in the process of being fired by the Democrats before the Republicans took over.

Other Democrats charged that the 2,200 figure includes some who left the government voluntarily without knowing they were to be later branded as suspect.

Births

To Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Alvey, Route 4, Harrisburg, a baby girl named Rebecca Jean, born Feb. 10 at the Harrisburg hospital and weighing seven pounds eight ounces.

Early day school teachers often were "naïve in kind," that is, they received part or all of their pay in designated products, like smoked hams, venison ham, corn, wheat, cows and calves at "current market prices."

Meeting Held at Marion by Licensed Practical Nurses

Licensed practical nurses of the Association of Illinois, Division 12, met Thursday evening for the February monthly meeting at the Marion Memorial hospital. There were about 80 nurses in attendance.

Dr. H. A. Felts was the speaker and presented an interesting talk on the drugs of 30 years ago and their administration and comparing them to the new wonder drugs of today.

There was a discussion of this subject among the nurses and the doctor following this talk which was very interesting. Also, at the meeting were six registered nurses from the Marion hospital, and Harrisburg and Lightner hospitals of Harrisburg, who were especially invited.

After the business transaction refreshments of cake and coffee were served by the nurses of the Marion hospital in the cafeteria.

In memory of Margaret Faye Furlong who departed this life two years ago Feb. 14, 1952. There's a tiny little angel Resting in a graveyard on a hill, Beneath it lies the one we love, Whose voice now is still. She was only just a little girl When God called her away To live with Him in heaven. Where we'll meet again, we pray, He put the roses here on earth To bloom, then fade away. He chose the fairest of them all When He called her that day To brighten all the flowers in heaven. Where she blooms in beauty rare. Tho we said "Goodbye" to her down here. We'll say "Hello" to her up there. Sadly missed by Mother and Father, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Furlong and relatives. *192-1

Moline and Paris Upset In State Play; Mt. Vernon Edges W. Frankfort, 48-44

SPRINGFIELD — Moline and Paris became victims of two of the biggest upsets of the current Illinois prep basketball season Friday night.

Moline, the team that handed La Grange its only defeat in two years, lost in double overtime 54-52 to a Galesburg club that had lost 11 of its previous 17 games. The game was played on the Galesburg home court.

Galesburg Coach Ken Menke, former University of Illinois whiz kid, announced last week he was resigning effective at the end of the current school year because of disappointment over the basketball situation.

Moline, which lost one game out of its first 14, now has dropped four out of its last five for a 14-5 record.

Centralia Beats Harrisburg
Paris, ranked No. 14 in the state, was trounced by Georgetown 53-45. The game was played at Georgetown. Paris now has a 22-3 record for the season.

Mt. Vernon, the state's third-ranked club, had a battle before edging West Frankfort, 48-44. Centralia, rated eighth, blasted Harrisburg 74-57.

Edwardsville and Wood River, prides of the southwest, both triumphed in games featuring different styles of play. In a slow, half-control contest, Edwardsville whipped Collinsville 44-36. Wood River's long passes and fast break rang up a 103-54 win over Granite City.

But Wood River's total wasn't the night's high. That honor went to Maroa, which battered Livingston 109-44.

Princeton, ranked 15th in the state, grabbed its 22nd straight victory against an opening game defeat by dropping Spring Valley Hall 85-49. And the team that beat Princeton, Peru St. Bede, notched a 35-23 win over Depue, making its record 15-3.

Mt. Carmel Wins
Rockford East chilled the hopes of upset-minded La Salle-Peru by humbling the Cavaliers 58-44 in a headlined Big 8 conference attraction. Rockford West whipped loop

THE END—Danny Nardico is dropped—flat on his face—for the second time in the ninth round and the sixth trip in all before Referee Jimmy Peerless stopped his bloody battle with Charley Norkus in Miami Beach. The Bayonne, N. J., unrated underdog was down twice. At 197, he was conceded 15 1/2 pounds. (NEA)

Bull Dogs Drop 74-57 Tilt to Centralia

Galatia Loses Double-Overtime Loop Game to Pope County, 72-70

Brookport in Tie For First; Vienna Loses to Shawneetown

Brookport's Bull Dogs went into a tie for the Greater Egyptian conference lead with Galatia last night, as Pope Co. handed the Bearcats their first defeat in loop play this season. The Pirates won a thrilling double-overtime affair, 72-70.

Brookport tripped Cave-in-Rock, 55-48, and Shawneetown rallied in the final period to nip Vienna, 70-69, in other circuit contests. Brookport's victory gave the Bull Dogs a 10-1 record, equal to that of Galatia's.

The upset-minded Pirates capitalized on their home court knowledge to throw a check in Galatia's title-bound hopes. Pope Co. held the upper hand much of the game.

Play Brookport Friday

Jim Schumaker's sidecourt push shot gave the Pirates their victory in the sudden-death period. Galatia had trailed 57-52 at the opening of the final quarter. The Bearcats made up this deficit, and the game was deadlocked 68-all at the end of the period.

In the first overtime, Glen Clardia hit a push shot to give the invaders a two-point edge, but Charlie Green drove in for a basket, tying the count and sending the game into its second extra session.

Galatia held a narrow 39-38 margin at the intermission after the score had been knotted at 20-all at the quarter.

Brookport and Galatia play next Friday night on the Bearcats' floor in what will be a title-deciding game.

Indians Strike Back

Brookport had little trouble disposing of Cave-in-Rock at halftime, holding a 27-20 edge at halftime.

Shawneetown staged a 22-point fourth period uprising to down Vienna, 70-69. The invading Johnson county club took an 18-11 lead at the quarter and was still in front, 38-31 at halftime. Coach Glen Jones' cagers appeared to be on the way to a victory, as they entered the final canto with a 55-48 margin.

It was then that the Indians struck back. Sophomore Jack Nolen led the way, scoring 10 of the 22 points in the last session.

Eldorado Eagles Drop 74 to 71 Game at Carmi

Eldorado dropped a 74-71 decision to the Carmi Bull Dogs last night on the Carmi floor. This gave the two teams an even split for the season as Eldorado won on their floor back on Dec. 4, 59-44.

The game was close throughout, being tied at the quarter, 18-all, but Carmi held small leads of 34-29 at the half and 52-50 after three quarters of play. Eldorado was clinging to a one-point margin with less than a minute to play when Carmi came up with four markers to take the three-point, 74-71, decision.

This gives Eldorado an overall record for the season of 12 victories and 8 losses, with four games remaining on the schedule. Eldorado will be at home to Ridgway Tuesday.

LITTLE LIZ

Improved Locals Cut Earlier Margin; Play At Mt. Carmel Tonight

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs, playing their best brand of basketball of the year, last night held Centralia to a 74 to 57 score in a game that was close most of the time.

The locals only five weeks ago bowed to the Orphans, 117 to 39, so last night they reduced the margin from 78 points in that contest to 17 points last night, and the 61-point difference in the two games proved satisfying to the local fans out at Davenport gym.

It was only in the last three minutes of the second period and the first three of the final period that the Orphans showed superiority over the Bull Dogs. During those times the Orphans made surges that advanced their lead.

Orphans Lead at Half, 45-31
The first quarter was nip-and-tuck, with the Orphans usually leading by one or two points until Bobby Joe Mason slipped under for a basket as the horn sounded to give his team a 23-19 lead at the end of the stanza.

The two teams were tied at 29-29 with a little more than three minutes to go in the second period but at that point Centralia put on a spree, scoring 16 points to two for Harrisburg and went to the showers at halftime with a lead of 45 to 31.

Many fans figured the inexperienced local crew would break wide open the third quarter, but they didn't. In fact, they outscored the Orphans 10-9 in this chapter and were behind 54-41 at the outset of the fourth period.

One Local Substitution

In the opening minutes of the final frame Marcus put for a basket and Mason put in three straight while Richard Gidcomb was getting the only tally for the locals, and Centralia moved out in front 62-43. Then, in the closing five minutes the two teams played on near-even terms, with Harrisburg outscoring the Orphans by two points.

The entire Bull Dog team fought all the way, and Coach Lawrence Caluffetti made but one substitution. Gerald Wasson showed enough to let fans in on the fact that he could easily become one of the outstanding centers of southern Illinois. Dave Harrison, too, showed up with a fine floor game although he made but three points. Gidcomb was high scorer for the locals with 19, followed by Wasson's 16 and Dave Anglin's 13. Anglin, showing up better on the floor all the time, was not quite as sharp with his shooting last night.

High scorer for Centralia was Mason.

Lose Preliminary, 80-38

In the preliminary contest the Bull Pups were trounced, 80-38. The little Orphans led 18-10 at the quarter, 44-21 at halftime and 65-28 at the end of the third quarter. Local scoring: Jack Wright 9, Bill Henshaw 7, Bill Bottomley 2, Bryan Jones 2, John Ziegler 1, Bennie Fulkerson 7, Wayne Stone 1, Everett Evans 1, Joe Dorris 3, Don McGowan 4, Fred McKenzie 1.

Tonight the Bull Dogs play at Mt. Carmel, meeting a team of Aces that is the outstanding out-

LISTEN...

Someone told him you could hear the sounds of the sea by listening to the shell. And he believes it. His youthful imagination and impressionable mind work along with the sound waves of the shell to recall quite vividly the rolling of the waves and the pounding of the surf.

The alert mind of youth is always susceptible to suggestion and experimentation. That is why education is begun so early in life when new ideas are grasped more readily by eager minds. This is the time of life when character and personality are molded.

Why then do we hesitate so often to grasp this opportunity? Why do we let Sunday after Sunday roll by without bringing our children to the services of the Church? Here the most wonderful ideas and plans for living are passed on to receptive young minds. Not idle notions, but thoughts of love, understanding, and brotherhood are implanted.

Enable your child and encourage the children of others to receive these priceless benefits. It will mean much to them now... even more later.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
To know the Christ, to see the Messiah revealed in Jesus of Nazareth, should not be difficult for us. We have the accumulated evidence of the New Testament Gospels and all the witnesses to the graciousness of His life, the richness and beauty of His teaching and the power of His salvation.

We might envy the experience of those who first saw Him and heard Him, when He was here on earth, but we have advantages that they did not have. They saw Him with wonderment. They heard Him gladly; they observed the miracles, but they did not always respond to His teaching. They were amazed and impressed, but there was doubt in their minds.

There had been various false ones, claiming to be the Messiah. So they said, not with positive conviction, "This is the Christ," but with hopeful questioning, "Is not this the Christ?"

So we of today stand with all the evidences and assurances of the time and the ages. But for us, as for those who saw and heard with wonderment, the Christ does not come with His fulness unless we, too, see Him with wonderment.

The first essential for the knowledge of the Christ is to know that story of the earthly life of Jesus, to walk with Him in Galilee, Samaria and Judea, to wander in the fields and villages and byways, as well as to journey to the feasts, Jerusalem and the Temple.

An amazing thing about the Gospels is that they are always new. A sense of wonder is always in the reading, if not a new incentive and a touch of inspiration. It is as we read and know the Gospels that the truth and richness and the experience of all that follows becomes living—the letters of St. Paul, and of Peter, James and John; the effect of the Gospel upon disciples in a pagan world, and the revelation of what Christ has been to those who have known, loved and followed Him in all the centuries of Christian faith.

"To know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge" (Ephesians 3:19)—that is the richest and greatest experience man can have, and any man can have it (II Corinthians 5:17).

It is not limited to the few, or to the learned. The evidence of that knowledge and its power and blessing is not found only in the lives of recognized saints.

It is found in the innumerable lives of the same sort of people who heard Jesus gladly, the people who in humble, daily life have found the love of God shed abroad in their hearts.

And you and I, every one of us, can be of that blessed company.
